

Graveyard

Blue Rodeo

Well I love these nervous breakdowns And I love these new skins And I love that you were brave enough
To sleep with all my friends And I love these messy ends
And I love these new beginnings And I love that you keep pounding On this drum inside my head And the once and future destiny Of your self fulfilling prophesy No longer the enemy
You accept it willingly And all the demons are saints And the saints I'll never trust In the graveyard of my heart
So let's go kick over tombstones In the graveyard of my heart
