

Always Home

Selah Sue

My eyes see the rest of the way long before I know
The secrets of my expectations
And they stole all my feelings and they know
Where I came from
Where do I go when stars go blue?
But my eyes will see the rest of the way long before I know
These secrets of mine This broken mind, these broken dreams
Maybe I'll be lonely after I go home
Meet me at the only, only place that we know
With you I'm always home My heart beats everyday harder than before
These feelings of pure exaltation
It stole all these feelings and it knows where I came from This broken mind, these broken dreams
Maybe I'll be lonely after I go home
Meet me at the only, only place that we know
With you I'm always home
