Crying In The Rain

Whitesnake

A black cat moans When he's burning with a fever A stray dog howls When he's lonely in the night A woman goes crazy With the thoughts of retribution But a man starts weeping When he's sick and tired of lifeI keep on dreaming Dreams of tomorrow Feel I'm wasting my time Lighting candles in the wind Always taking my chances On the promise of the future But a heart full of sorrow Paints a lonely tapestryThe sun is shining Ooh, but it's raining in my heart No one understands the heartache No one feels the pain No one ever sees the tears When you're cryin' in the rain When you're cryin' in the rain Cryin' in the rainI can never deny All the sweet things I've tasted Though I've been mistreated I keep coming back for more, more, more I know where I'm going There's no hope of absolution I can't seem to separate The good times from the badThe sun is shining Ooh baby, it's still raining in my heart No one understands the heartache No one feels the pain No one ever sees the tears When you're cryin' in the rain No, no, no! The sun is shining But, it's raining in my heart

No one understands the heartache
No one feels the pain
No one ever sees the tears
When you're cryin' in the rain
Cryin' in the rain

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/