How Often

Kevon Edmonds

I bet I know your day
I betcha you left for work 'bout ten minutes late
You didn't even wear the dress I bought
Didn't eat at our favorite spot
And baby, you found a new placeHmm, so I'm sittin' here at the same time
Pickin' up the pieces you left behind
Oh, now God knows that I miss your face
Can't help but wonder what it takes, baby
To get back in your lifeGirl, how often do you think of me?
How often do I enter your mind, girl?
Is there ever a time?
How often do you cry for me?
I cry for you like all of the time
And I wonder if I ever cross your mindYour mind, your mind
Your mind, your mindGirl, I thought what we had was so strong
That's why it lasted so long, yeah, yeah
You couldn't find yourself a better man
That's why I just don't understand it
Why you're not hereGirl, how often do you think of me?
How often do I enter your mind, girl?
Is there ever a time?
How often do you cry for me?
I cry for you like all of the time
And I wonder if I ever cross your mindI've got to get back to you
Reasons are so clear
I know that I can't live without you
Now that you're not hereI'm saving everythin' I got
I'm holdin' on to you
We were wrong to let things go
I need to know you still love meHow often do you think of me?
How often do I enter your mind, girl?
Is there ever a time?
How often do you cry for me?
I cry for you like all of the time
And I wonder if I ever cross your mindHow often do you think of me?
How often do I enter your mind, girl?
Is there ever a time?
How often do you cry for me?
I cry for you like all of the time

And I wonder if I ever cross your mindHow often do you think of me?
How often do I enter your mind, girl?
Is there ever a time?
How often do you cry for me?
I cry for you like all of the time
