

Revolution (radio session)

The Cult

Pictures of never ending dreams
I can't see what these images mean
Locked inside me, can't set the rainbows free
Like perishing flowers they sag and twist and die
There's a revolution
There's a revolution, yeah
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
Sorrow, what does revolution mean to you?
To say today's like wishing in the wind
All my beautiful friends they've all gone away
Like the waves they flow and they and die
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
There's a, there's a revolution
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
There's a revolution, yeah
Joy or sorrow, what does revolution mean to you?
To say today's like wishing in the wind
All my beautiful friends have all gone away
Like the waves they flow and they and die
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
There's a revolution
Revolution, revolution
Revolution, revolution
Revolution, revolution
Revolution, revolution, yeah

Songwriters

IAN ROBERT ASTBURY, WILLIAM HENRY DUFFY

Published by
Lyrics © EMI Music Publishing, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>