A Vision's Demise

Suidakra

Drown the last discord
To afford a sense of satisfaction
Dissecting the past
To avoid yourself
For a next injection
Of a faked lifeMy vision's demiseConfusing images
Of lust and frustration
A collapse of taste
And imaginationWhere's the matter
Of being enslaved
Life was his prison
The moments his graveMy mind is caught but gone astray
In a white noise melodyDazed by the reflecting stars
But chased by the changes which never comeCry for the moon
Shed a tear
For what you've becomeLament and croon
Of all your fears
For all changes undoneHollow words
Of a broken mind
Curse your mind
For a mental burn outFor me I am
The cause and witness
With reflecting eyes
A harlequin of sadnessDrown the last discord
To afford a sense of satisfaction
Dissecting the past
To avoid yourself
For a next injection
Of a faked lifeFor a last injection
Of my faked life
