So Alone

Juliana Hatfield

It's late at night and you need somebody to talk to
But who are those people that you once knew
And if you called just what would you say?
Would you break down straight away?You're so alone, you're so alone
You wanna die and nobody knows
You're so alone, you're so alone
You wanna die and nobody knowsYou keep leaving messages that don't say anything
Like hi, how's it going? Pretending you're okay
You disguise your fear so you don't scare them away
You don't wanna go to sleep because the nightmares keep you awakeYour heart is beating strangely
Nausea and pains throughout your bodyYou're so alone, you're so alone
You wanna die and nobody knows
You're so alone, you're so alone
You wanna die and nobody knowsYou're so alone, so alone
In the night when people go home
You're so alone, so alone
You're gonna die and nobody knowsYou've told everyone who ever meant anything to you
To please just go away
So now you've got nobody what are you supposed to do?
It's getting late and the night is getting darker
And you're fading away, you're fading awayAnd you're talking to yourself
Is this really happening?
And Im talking to myself
Is anybody listening?You're so alone, so alone
You wanna die and nobody knows
You're so alone, so alone
You gonna die and nobody knows
