

Driving Through a Dream

Andrew McMahon In the Wilderness

Straighter than the flat line freeway
That's the way your hair falls down
We could watch the trains from the tightrope
Chase the darkOut here on a desert fault line
That's the way the world goes 'round
I'm losing track of time inside this racing heart
Your racing heartStaring out the window with your, with your head on my shoulder
Try to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dream
Riding through the heart of the dark that you fought like a soldier
Try to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dreamTry to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dreamClinging to your late-night courage
Anything to pass the time
Lying in the back seat trying not to fall apart
Waiting for your life to startStaring out the window with your, with your head on my shoulder
Try to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dream
Riding through the heart of the dark that you fought like a soldier
Try to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dreamTry to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dreamAnd the night is long, the road is longer,
You say, you sleep better when I'm awake
I'll stay awake for youStaring out the window with your, with your head on my shoulder
Try to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dream
Riding through the heart of the dark that you fought like a soldier
Try to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dreamTry to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dreamTry to get some sleep, we'll be driving through a dream
