Less Than Half

Scandal

You tell me things I don't understand confuse me, I know that's your plan over and over we go on and on lying until the night is goneWe move in circles with our eyes on the door saying so little thinking much more stranger and stranger we start to feel the night is over and nothing is real Here we go, just close your eyes cause I'm gonna find a way now you know I told you ten times before there isn't any other wayLess than half of what you say is true but it doesn't matter to me or you you'll always find some way to get me by but don't fight it babyWe move in circles
with our eyes on the door
the night is over and nothing is real Less than half of what you say is true it doesn't matter to me or you you'll always find some way to get me by but everything you've said was a lie so pull me closer to your heart that's no good and don't fight me baby
