

Holdin' Her

Chris Janson

I've woke up in places I couldn't remember
Who's lying next to me or even how I got there
And it's hard to believe that's how I used to roll
One Tuesday night in an underground pool hall
That's where I saw her for the first time
Right around last call
She stole my heart and I started walking down a new road
And when I'm holdin' her
It's like peace on earth
Where time stands still
Love's the only thing, yeah that I feel
When she's in my arms
No matter where we are
You know I'm right at home when I'm holdin' her
On a park bench down on fourth street I popped the question
And to my amazement she actually said yes
Tears filled my eyes as I slipped a ring on her hand
Oh then a few short years later God put into my world
A six pound eight ounce sweet baby girl
And ever since that day, let me tell ya now I've been a brand new man
Because when I'm holdin' her
It's like peace on earth
Where time stands still
Loves the only thing, yeah that I feel
When she's in my arms
No matter where, no matter where we are
I'm right at home when I'm holdin' her
