Waiting

Jimmie's Chicken Shack

Waiting for you patiently hoping
Your feelings might change
Breathing for me now guess I'm coping
But at least I'm feeling
Don't take it for what you see
'Cause it could be worseExplosion to fade out
Cut to a girl lying motionless in the sand
Wondering what we're about
Surround now the sound
Of wings softly pushing airI want to know how flying feels
As we run with the seasons, you change
While I'm standing here
Waiting for you, waiting for youAll too often we doubt
Something so true
It leaves us naked where we stand
Saw your breath make a cloud
Raining an ocean of your preciousness in my handI think I know how dying feels, yeah
And if this is all just a dream
What's one more year
Waiting for you, waiting for youWaiting for you, waiting for you
Waiting for you, breathing for youWhat a price to pay
To want to know how flying feels
You want to know how flying feels
I think I know how dying feels'Cause I'm still waiting for you
Facing that I'm slowly dying here
Waiting for you, waiting for you
Breathing for you, breathing for youThat's why I'm slowly dying here
Can't you see that's my least of fears
