

Back at the Start (Abelard Remix) [feat. K. Flay]

Viceroy

You made your plans
I packed my bags
You wrote the note
I called a cab
I got away with words but you're not listening' You used to light the world up but now its different So I've been actin' like I'm seventeen Oh now come in while we play the seams of you and me Rocking shots I might of taken three Basically, I'm a wreck Hold my phone like lets just wait and see what I expect oh
I believe in you and me We'll build something in history
I thought we should go hard
You will never find a way to pick up the parts
But now I'm in a cloud of smoke Finally
all alone
After so much time it took I look around and find myself
back at the start Back at the start
Ah
I like to tell myself that I don't need nobody That I don't need your help
That I could check my body I got my soap

and it never ends Wish you'd tell my why cause my minds been in many things Smoking, drinking, till I'm numbing got no way of thinking as of late I'm just letting you know
But now I'm yelling f it They say you should say something for you If you can drive for yourself I'm letting you go
oh
I believe
in you and me
in history
But now I'm in
a cloud of smoke
Finally
all alone
I look around
back at the start
Back at the start
