

Betrayer

Hundredth

This is a song in which I use to describe
What I feel about people like you
No sense for humanity, no idea about life
This premise has been proved
You used my trust
To satisfy your brainless lust
Your word isn't worth
More than puke in the dust
Betray
Misleader
You twisted things to satisfy
Deceiver
The greedy lust you can't deny, you can't deny
Betray
How could I be so naive to believe
All the lies you so easily told
I think I've learned my lesson too late
The story took time to unfold
Now I see your true face
Behind your mask, a cheat, a fake
Your word isn't worth
More than puke in the dust
Betray
Ignorant, twisted mind
Maybe it would help to think
Before you speak from time to time
Pretend to be a friend of mine
But you would sell your mother
If you could for less than a dime
Intelligence lost, brain [Incomprehensible]
So you will loose
Fall to your knees
Guys like you I cannot stand
Maybe I must speak another language
Before you understand
Misleader
You twisted things to satisfy
Deceiver
The greedy lust you can't deny, you can't deny
Betray
Betray
