

Permanent Solution

Paradise Lost

For the end, the time I'm feeling host
And I'm turning it around for you Lord I feel I tried much more than most
And I've done the things I wanted to It's that useless contribution that leads to a solution for me
You don't need to search for answers of hide behind
Romances again For that very sign to leave this world
And I'm turning it around for you On the edge of life it seems so low
And you've done the things you wanted to It's that finer concentration of total liberation for me
And the more that I believe in the less that
I'm receiving instead
