

Jack And White

Bleed the Dream

Jaded, washed out
These clothes don't even fit me anymore
But I'll try, to get up
'Cause I don't feel like sleeping anymore
I know your teeth are sinking in
And my scars are proof of where I've been
And I'm struggling to keep my sanity
'Cause there's no point in breathing in
There's no point in breathing in
So far, so bad
This month I died a little everyday
But I'll smile, just for you
So you don't have to see me this way
And I know your teeth are sinking in
And my scars are proof of where I've been
And I'm struggling to keep my sanity
'Cause there's no point in breathing in
