Frailty

Vangough

This bottle is bringing me down
No comfort for me in this town
All the faith in these eyes
Lost the glow and just dies
I pray, redeem this heart
And be here now.

In this war
The tears in my eyes says it all
Put all of my faith in you now
When all of the world says
We wont make it through
We'll battle the world.

I feel so alone
The situation's desperate
Until I've found my life again I drown
So save me now
Breathe new life in me

In this war
The tears in my eyes says it all
Put all of my faith in you now
When all of the world says
We wont make it through
We'll battle the world.

I greet the morning sky
The sun dries tears in my eyes
Awaken this sleeping heart of mine
And be here now

In this war
The tears in my eyes says it all
Put all of my faith in you now
When all of the world says
We wont make it through
We'll battle the world.

Awaken this sleeping heart of mine

Awaken this heart.
Awaken this sleeping heart of mine
