

Seven Seas

Sarah Brightman

Waters deep
And waters blue
The gently flow
From me to youThe colored voice
It's vibrant toned
The hidden force
Of the big crystal blueAnd by the light
Of the silvery moon
The wild horses
Come running homeMiles apart
But still entwined
I like to think
That you sit here tooAnd let your thoughts
And let your soul
Be gently lulled
By what's in front of youToo many ashore
And distant land
The seas unite
Bringing me to youWaters deep
And waters blue
The gently flow
From me to youThe colored voice
It's vibrant toned
The hidden force
Of the big crystal blueAnd by the light
Of the silvery moon
The wild horses
Come running home
