

Right on Time (Feat. TobyMac)

Aaron Cole

Don't worry
Just lay it down it's not your fight

Don't worry
It'll be alright

Don't worry
He will make your heavy light

Don't worry at all
Worry at all

His Love is always right on time I've been tryna figure out my own way

Tryna put it all on me

Weighed down by the pressure

Without looking up I know you see me cause

On and on and on you keep blessing me

On and on and on I keep worrying

Why am I always running when you telling me

Telling me Don't worry

Just lay it down it's not your fight

Don't worry
It'll be alright

Don't worry
He will make your heavy light

Don't worry at all
Worry at all

His Love is always right on time Right, right on time Rise up get clean throw em on like Ima wear em

Ain't got the shoulders for these burdens I am bearing

Broke down

And pulling over by the wayside

Was never made for this type of weight so I

Throw my hands up and my load gets lighter

I throw my hands up and then burn like fire

Float up to heaven like the smoke in the air

Flip my worries into prayers leave em right there

Don't worry
Just lay it down it's not your fight

Don't worry
It'll be alright

Don't worry
He will make your heavy light

Don't worry at all

Worry at all
His Love is always right on timeTime, time, right on time
Time, timeI know your problems seem God-sized
If you can see em through God's eyes
If you could only see em through God's eyesI know your problems seem God-sized
If you can see em through God's eyes
Right on time, right on timeDon't worry
Don't worry
It'll be alright (Be alright)
Don't worry
He will make your heavy light
Worry at all
His Love is always right
Worry at all
Time, time, right on time
Time, time, right on time
Right on time
Right on timeYeah
