

Hello, My Darling

Billie Holiday

I'll forget your tender kiss
I'll be brave after this
I'll say, "Hello my darling"
If we should meet again You'll forbid the tears to slip
You'll behave, bite your lip
And say, "Hello my darling"
If we should meet again If we do meet again
Our moments can't be sweet again
Oh my love, go my love
Though it's a bitter pill, I know my love Please remember not to sigh
Over this last goodbye
Just say, "Hello my darling"
If we should meet again
