Mirrorball

Everything But the Girl

You never knew the teenage me and you would not believe
The things you didn't see, some pretty, some ugly
And the lovely mirrorball reflected back them all
Every triumph every fight under disco lightCome on girl, it's alright
Come on girl, it's alright now
Come on girl, it's gonna be alright nowWell, I guess some boys adored me, but the one I loved ignored me
And caused me in the end to murder my best friend
And though I got her letter, it never did get better
And I got out of my head then I joined a band insteadCome on girl, it's alright
Come on girl, it's alright now
Come on girl, it's gonna be alright nowSome good times I remember, my birthday that September
We laid down on the lawn and counted until dawn
The stars that we lay under and is he still I wonder
The fairest of them all, mirror, mirrorball, mirrorball, heyCome on girl, it's too late
Come on girl, it's too late now
Come on girl, let it all go
Come on girl, it's too late nowCome on girl, it's gonna be alright
Come on girl, it's never gonna be alright, yeah
It's too late now, let it all go'Cause it's never gonna be alright
'Cause it's never gonna be alright
'Cause it's never gonna be alright
'Cause it's never gonna be alright
