It Fit When I Was A Kid

Liars

Deep at the end of space
Further than the sun
Is a crowd of chairsWay out on a crystal sea
Protecting you and me
Is a battleshipI had my eyebrow into a question
Who is this captain
And where do his friends live?We were walking in the snow
Down the street from your front door
I jumped a neighbor's fence at dawn
Danced my way across your lawnUsed a diamond on the glass
Slithered slowly through the dark
Made my way up o'er your stairs
Crystals flying everywhereWe will drive you in the boot
Through the crooked past
To your resting placeWe will leave you in the woods
Tell your friends you slipped
Down the lumen treeIf you're seen there
Blooming Inside
Each time I hope that
Talking improvesI will remember you, youFollow lonely crowds as clouds will come
Follow lonely crowds as clouds
Follow lonely crowds as clouds will come
Follow lonely crowds as clouds will come
