

Work In Progress

Sister Hazel

Well I'm sick, I'm annoyed
And I'm nasty and I'm incomplete
I am angry, I am lost
Yeah I'm hard as stone
I am sore, well I am worried
And I'm disgusted
I am lonely and I'm scared
And it's crushing me You said "what is worthy"
Yeah, you say you belong, belong, belong, belong
Well you say if it matters
Well tell me I'm not dead because I'm going crazy I'm a mess, such a mess
I'm a coward and a hypocritical sinner
Like a bitchin' politician
But my anger's true
I am tense and intentional
I'm passionate to a fault
I am old
But I'm a work in progress Well, tell me that I'm worthy
Oh, tell me I belong, belong, belong, belong
Tell me that I matter
Well tell me I'm not dead, 'cause I'm going crazy... Well I'm hung up on the past
Finished up in last
Idealistic in case you missed it
Later, self-mutilator
Killing time, procrastinator
Why worry about my health
Ripping on myself
Idealistic in case you missed it Well you said "what is worthy"
Oh, tell me I belong, belong, belong, belong
Well tell me that I matter
Well tell me I'm not dead 'cause I'm not that lazy Well I'm a wreck, such a wreck
Well I'm a martyr and a perpetual loser
Not a sin-free Oprah Winfrey
But I do mean well
I am tense and intentional
I'm passionate to a fault
I am old
But I'm a work in progress
