

The Butler

Boxing Gandhis

Good Day

This is the english butler for young master Thomas Lee

Unfortunetly he is away presently but i will deliver your messege on my silver platter just as soon as i finish picking up all these soaked stockings, garder belts, panties and high heels

The visitors do seem to leave a lot of those behind

He mumbled something about rocking two years on the road with Motley Crue

But it also could of been (beep) two bits of gear on the roof with a shapely broom

You know these pop rock stars today

Anyway at the pop of a champagne cork leave your messege and your humble servant will make sure that the real mr. rich and famous gets it

Cheers.
