

This House Called Love

Maximilian Hecker

We moved into this house called love
Right at the crack of dawn
And cheered to praise the Lord above
"Oh, Father, we're reborn""This is our home and here's my plan"
She said to me outright
"Let's never leave this house again"
And locked all doors and lightsBut suddenly I felt the need
To run and leave our spaceIt had become a cage indeed
There was no beauty's traceBut when she said "You're free to go"
I felt I want to stay
I saw again our house's glow
And doubts they slipped awayAnd then one day this house called love
Right at the crack of gloom
It was decayed and from above
The snow fell on our ruin
