

Cult Logic

Miike Snow

All my life I've been the slave of consequence
Wondering how this life could be so intricate
I wanna rewrite my heart and let the future in
I wanna open it up and let somebody in Can you free me from the logic that I knew
I believe it even if it is not true Am I falling asleep on my feet again?
I call out, is anybody listening
And it's like I'm diving into emptiness
But at least there's something beating in my chest Can you free me from the logic that I knew
I believe it even if it is not true Can you free me from the logic that I knew
I believe it even if it is not true
