

50/50

Beef

Much to my dismay
When I wake up in the morning
    No one by my side
    Nowhere left to hide
I thought, music was enough
I could fill the empty spaces
    Wandering the halls
    Bouncing off the walls
    Too high to hear the song
Or recall the deeper meaning
    There is but to seek redress
From is wretched loneliness
    With
    Love, that's 50/50
    Or a hundred at a time
    Love, that's 50/50
    With both of us this time
    I can hear my love
And she wouldn't try to change me
    She knows that I will try to be
    The best of me that I can be
    And that is change enough
I could lose myself tryin' to please her
    And after all was said and done
    She might not like what I'd become
    So listen to your love
    If you let it, it will tell you
    You got to try again, again
    Find your lover, confidant and
        Friend, that's 50/50
        Or a hundred at a time
        Love, love, love, love
That's 50/50, with both of us this time
    Listen to your love
    It will sing to you tomorrow
        Every day's new melody
        Needs a different harmony
        So, listen to the song
    And the part that never changes

The rhythm and the symmetry
Of love's collected poetry
Listen close enough
Hear the whispers of forever
What we have ourselves become
One and one is still one
Love, that's 50/50
Or a hundred at a time
Love, love, love, love
Love love, that's 50/50
Or a hundred at a time
Love love love love
That's 50/50, with both of us this time
