

Under Construction

No Doubt

Success serenades me
And pressures at the door
Broken promise, debris
Lie around from my mind war And my accomplishments interrogating me
Today's become tomorrow before I wanted it to be Desperate discussions
Disturb the destruction
I assigned in my mind
I'll be fine, I'll be fine 'Cause I'm under construction, everyone
So you'll have to mind the mess
I'm under some construction I always had to try harder
I never really could keep up
Sitting in the corner
With my illness and bad luck But in this humble place
I'm feeling like red wine
And I hope to get better with some time
I'll be fine, in some time I'll be fine 'Cause I'm under construction, everyone
So you'll have to mind the mess
I'm under some construction Correction
Modification
Alteration
Construction And the rituals that soothe and disgust me
Will be gone in some time, I'll be fine
In some time I'll be fine, I'll be fine I'm under construction, everyone
So you'll have to mind the mess
I'm under some construction I'm under construction everyone
So you'll have to mind the mess
I'm under some construction Construction
Construction
Feel better with some construction
