

Window to Your Soul

Average White Band

Did you ever stop to Wonder
What it's like to be on the
Other side
Looking in on all the things
You try to hide
You don't ever sell yourself
Short, that ain't fair
Whatever else you take for Granted
Don't ever sell yourself
Short, that ain't fair
I can turn around the mirror
In your heart
You'll come to know the
One who really cares
Tryin' to open a window to
Your soul
Getting closer but you
Won't let go
There's so much more you
Have to offer me
It's like a stream that's Running deep under the Ground
If digging deeper helps me
Bring it to the light
You'll be glad I was around
Tryin' to open a window to
Your soul
Getting closer but you
Won't let go
Tryin' to open a window to
Your soul
Don't try to fight it baby,
Don't say no
Don't say no baby use
Denying I hold the key
Just let go, baby, no use in
Crying when you can lean
On me....
They say love can last
Forever
That means we take the

Bad, not only the good
Even if sometimes you
Have a frightened heart
At least you know you'll be Understood Tryin' to open a window to
Your soul...etc.

Songwriters

GORRIE, ALAN EDWARD/JORDAN, STEPHEN K. Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>