Broadcast

Meese

Tell me what you want from me
Because a ship is sinking right beneath
A safety net won't break your fall
If you never make it off the ground
At all.
So far,
I've wandered apart
In a lost transmission
That was broken from the start
So far,
I've thrown it away
To get second chances
If the first one never came

[Chorus:]
And now a broadcast to you
Across the length of this room
Because the distance between
Is much to far
To travel through
And now a broadcast to you
Where ever you are
And if it finds you someday
I hope that you are not too
Far away.

Tell me will you cut the chord
Because I cannot hear you anymore
A bad connection never lasts
And then the dialtone is off again
You try to keep me away
But I'm tired and the static's
Gettin' louder every day
I try walkin' away
To get second chances
If the first one never came

[Chours:]

If I promiss not to lie

Would you lay your armor down?
If I don't do what you like
Would you have to stand?
If I promiss not to lie
Would you lay your armor down?
If I don't do what you like
Would you have to stand?

And now a broadcast to you
Where ever you are
And if it finds you someday
I hope you are not too
Far away...
I hope that you are not too
Far away.

Lyrics submitted by Julia.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/