In The End

The Stranglers

This town's too small
You run around like you do
You're taking things
Just don't belong to you
Picture yourself inside a room now
Imagine the freedom that you'll lose
Well baby, it all comes back to haunt you in the end
And baby, it hurts the most when you don't have a friend
You know you broke our trust and now you're stuck
On the wrong side of the fence
Baby, it all comes back to haunt you in the end
I know you're scared
Somebody will find you out
But you're not aware
We know what you're all about
And picture yourself inside a room now
And all of your guilt comes down on you
Well baby, it all comes back to haunt you in the end
And baby, it hurts the most when you don't have a friend
You know you broke our trust and now you're stuck
On the wrong side of the fence
Baby, it all comes back to haunt you in the end
Well, take it Tommy
You cry alone
Nobody will see you through
You made your choice
There's nothing that you can do
'Cause baby, it all comes back to haunt you in the end
Baby, it hurts the most when you don't have a friend
You know, you broke our trust now you're stuck
On the wrong side of the fence
Baby, it all comes back to haunt you
All comes back to haunt you
All comes back to haunt you in the end
