

Dead Alone

In Flames

I will always belong to the shadow don't show me no results
I will never enter your heaven, make the most out of my dirty cell
Creeps infected by control that's what put me in here
Dig deep, don't think you ever get to the place where they buried me
The last glimpse that I have Fragments pieces of some things valuable
Even though it doesn't make sense anymore
I release my last tear
My frustration, my conversation
Why are we even here?
The abuse that we use
I do not longer care, [The cold] worms and me
The dead light inside fuel to new seed
When there are only my bone's please put them in use
Want to be part of a new dawn, the darkness disappears
Don't release these chains never been closer to myself
All your mistake's run through as I realize what we become
The end is here to bid farewell
I'll turn into ash and hear them sing
Songs about my emotions dead and alone
Don't make an effort you don't know me anyway
My frustration, my conversation
Why are we even here?
The abuse that we use
I do not longer care, [The cold] worms and me
The dead light inside fuel to new seed
