If You Run

Boy Meets Girl

Here it comes again
You start wishin' for the old times when love was easy
Here it comes again
You start to wonder if it's you or him who stopped believin'Is it love? Is it blind? Does it hurt to unwind?
Will you run? Will you hide? Will it pass away with time?
Pass away with time, if you runThe same thing waits for you, if you run
A new place with the same old view, if you run
The same heart beats, if you run
The story repeats, if you runCan't remember when You're less like lovers and more like friends
'Cause you let it slide, is this where it ends?
Where's the mercy do you have to try it
Time and time again?Don't know what lies behind
If you look, will you find deeper love?
Bigger lies or a wound that heals with time
Will you heal with time, if you runThe same thing waits for you, if you run
A new place with the same old view, if you run
The same heart beats, if you run
The story repeats, if you run

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/