

You Just Have to Laugh

Chris Webster & Nina Gerber

You just have to laugh, lyrics

Ain't it funny how life is put together.
And ain't it strange how it always falls apart.
Every minute there's a million things that happen.
Some men make you smile and some that break your heart.

you just have to laugh or you'll go crazy.
you just have to laugh in between the tears.
you just have to laugh when it ain't easy.
open up your eyes and say hello to another day.

Ain't it funny how nothing ever changes.
ain't it true that nothing stays the same.
Don't you wonder how this boat just keeps on floating.
Not knowing where it's going or from where the hell it came.

You just have to laugh or you'll go crazy.
you just have to laugh in between the tears.
You just have to laugh when it aint easy.
Open up your eyes and say hello to another day.

Bring it on,
serve it up,
but I don't like the sound it makes...
I feel like giving up.
Take it in,
let it go,
If I get it figured out,
you'll be the first to know.

Instrument solo

Just remember, did I tell you that I love you.
Did I tell you that no one can take your place.
Make a promise that if I should go before you.
you won't let me slow you down or drop out of the race.

You just have to laugh or you'll go crazy.

you just have to laugh in between the tears.
you just have to laugh when it aint easy.
open up your eyes and say hello to another day.

You just have to laugh.
you just have to laugh.
you just have to laugh.
when it ain't easy.
open up your eyes and say hello to another day.
Open up your heart and say hello to one another day.
