Last Chance

China Drum

You know I can't believe
You're just going to stand and watch them bleed
Plummeting to the depths of your foolish, bold conceptI've seen you before with good ideas
But this one had its moments
The color crimson surrounds your ears
I think this time you've blown itI think this time you've blown it, it's much too late to change
I think this time you know you couldn't rearrange
I think this time you've blown it, it's much too late to change
That was your last chanceYou know I can't believe you're just going to stand and watch them bleed
Plummeting to the depths of your foolish bold concept
I've seen you before with good ideas but this one had its moments
The color crimson surrounds your ears, I think this time you've blown it
I think this time you've blown itI think this time you've blown it, it's much too late to change
I think this time you know you couldn't rearrange
I think this time you've blown it, it's much too late to change
That was your last chanceYou know I can't believe
You're just going to stand and watch them bleed
You're just going to stand and watch them bleed
You're just going to stand and watch them bleed
You're just going to stand and watch them bleed

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/