

In Another Life

Madina Lake

I remember my first kiss
The butterflies, I know you felt them too
I can still taste your lips
That night, I wrapped up all my love in you But deep inside, I always knew There's sadness for all, who wants to live?
I must hate myself
'Cause I also knew what day you'd destroy me But there's something I've gotta know
Before we say goodbye
Will I ever see you again
Somewhere in another life? I remember our first fight
Your skeletons were all up over you
I can still taste that night
When you told me you'd been beaten up and abused You'd had it all, bruised mouths don't die
It's not your fault, it was never your fault
That evil world for an innocent girl
It's not your fault, it was never your fault There's something I've gotta know
Before we say goodbye
Will I ever see you again
Somewhere in another life? I could've tried to be okay
But I need you to know
Wherever you are now
[Incomprehensible] You were always great at running away
But you said forever, you promised forever
I forgive you, I've forgiven you
Now I just miss you, I'll always remember you
Go, go [Incomprehensible] But there's something I've gotta know
Before we say goodbye
Will I see you again
Somewhere in another life I could've tried to be okay
But I need you to know
Wherever you are now
[Incomprehensible]

Songwriters

LEONE, NATHAN D / LEONE, MATTHEW J / TORELLI, DANIEL DAVID / CAMARGO,

MATEO Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>