

Childhood's End? (Live In London)

Marillion

And it was morning
And I found myself
Mourning for a childhood
That I thought had disappeared I looked out the window
And I saw a magpie in the rainbow
The rain had gone I'm not alone
I turned to the mirror I saw you, the child that once loved
The child before they broke his heart
Our heart, the heart
That I believed was lost Hey you, surprised?
More than surprised
To find the answers to the questions
Were always in your own eyes Do you realize
That you give it on back to her?
But that would only be retraced
In all the problems that you ever knew, so untrue For she's got to carry on
With her life
And you've got to carry on
With yours So I see it's me, I can do anything
I'm still the child 'cos the only thing
Misplaced was direction and I found direction
There is no childhood's end There is no childhood's end
'Cos you are my childhood friend
'Cos you are my childhood friend
Oh, lead me on Hey you, you've survived
Now you've arrived
To be reborn in the shadow of the magpie
Now you realize that you've got to get out of here You've found the leading light of destiny
Burning in the ashes of your memory
You wanna change the world You'd resigned yourself
To die a broken rebel
But that was looking backward
Now you've found the light You, the child that once loved
The child before they broke his heart
Our heart, the heart
That I believed was lost So it's me I see, I can do anything
I'm still the child
'Cos the only thing misplaced was direction
And I found direction There is no childhood's end

There is no childhood's end
There is no childhood's end
I am your childhood friend
Oh, lead me on
