

Heart Go Bang (The Egg Night Mix)

Blue October

So there she stood in front of me with eyes painted bluer
Than the first day of the summer and the last sight of the moon
As the stars fell all around her what an astonishing view
That took away the last breath ever shared between two
And as I reached into her mouth with open eyes to see it all
I felt the comfort of her lips pressed to me up against the wall
A wall of history and past lives that we hung within a frame
It was the first day of forever and I never was the same I never knew this side of me
I never felt like this before
You make my heart go bang
And I know that we've only begun
I never knew this side of me
I never felt like this before
You make my heart go bang
And I know that we've only begun So we let the silence speak for us we stood there in the wind
So I could read her like the blind read brail the goosebumps on her skin
Like a fever breaking all around her white dress in the rain
It was the first day of forever and I never was the same I never knew this side of me
I never felt like this before
You make my heart go bang
And I know that we've only begun
I never knew this side of me
I never felt like this before
You make my heart go bang
And I know that we've only begun Lay with me
We don't need anything
But who we are
And I'll never let you go
(Lay with me) As who we are
(We don't need anything) I will never leave you
Standing right in front of you (Who we are)
I see who I am I never knew this side of me
I never felt like this before
You make my heart go bang
And I know that we've only begun
I never knew this side of me
I never felt like this before
You make my heart go bang
And I know that we've only begun I never knew this side of me (lay with me)

I never felt like this before (we don't need anything)
You make my heart go bang (who we are)
I see who I am I never knew this side of me (I never knew this side of me)
I never felt like this before (I never felt like this before)
You make my heart go bang
I say I see who I am Lay with me
We don't need anything
But who we are
