Different Day

State of Shock

Can I trust you'll go away
If I'm to say I'm okay?
Just let me bleed on my own
And I will find my way homeCause the sad, sad side of it all
Is you don't remember
Being a breath away from death
The sad, sad side of it allAnd maybe on a different day
I'd let the rain, wash this away
But it's just too lateThe sad, sad side of it all
Is you don't rememberThis key cannot be re-cut
Cause my hearts been sealed shut
And if our paths cross again
I'll turn and walk awayCause the sad, sad side of it all
Is you don't remember
Being a breath away from death
The sad, sad side of it allAnd maybe on a different day
I'd share the blame, I'd share the pain
But it's just too lateAnd maybe on a different day
I'd let the rain wash this away
But it's just too lateThe sad, sad side of it all
Is you dont remember
Being a breath away from death
The sad, sad side of it allIs you're looking around lost
Just trying to find your way
Looking around lost
Just trying to find your way homeCan I trust you'll go away
If I'm to say Im okay?
Just let me bleed on my own
And I will find my way homeAnd maybe on a different day
I'd share the blame, I'd share the pain
But it's just too lateAnd maybe on a different day
I'd let the rain wash this away
But it's just too lateThe sad, sad side of it all
Is you don't remember
Being a breath away from death
The sad, sad side of it all
Is you don't rememberThe sad, sad side of it all
Is you don't remember
