"Grown Unknown"

Lia Ices

I can't live on a solitary stem
When there's open land and warm wind
There's always more and more to multiply love love love you, but desire confines

Don't hide in yer heart, on your side, in yer mind
don't sigh sigh and defy what would stay, what should thrive
We're together scattered, and then together high
Together flowered, grown unknown and wild

Give me a flower without a name
Give me an unknown , too tall untamed
I'll give you the tree that I finally found Roots, roots in the air, branches in the ground

Don't hide in yer heart, on your side, in yer mind
don't sigh sigh and defy what would stay, what should thrive
We're together scattered, and then together high
Together flowered, grown unknown and wild

I need you wild
(is this what we're living for, to be known and a little more?)
