Lover's Will

Bonnie Raitt

Who'll take the only hearts they got
And throw them into the fire?
Who'll risk their own self respect
In the name of desire?
Who'll regret everything they've done
And who will get the bill?
Lovers willWho'll hurt each other all the time
And never give it a thought?
Who'll lie about where they've been
And hope they never get caught?
Who'll say each other's kisses
No longer thrill?

Lovers will

Lovers willLovers will do almost anything For the thrill that only love can bring If love is a healer, who'll be the first ones ill?

Lovers will

Baby, Lovers willWho'll never know what they've got
Until it's just about gone?
And whose arms will gather up what's left

To carry on?Who'll stalk that little bit of love

That hasn't yet been killed?

Lovers will

Lovers willLovers will do almost anything
For the thrill that only love can bring
And if love is a healer, who'll be the first one ill?

Lovers will Lovers will

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/