

The Crawl

The Fabulous Thunderbirds

Hey cousin, I know you, not long ago in the City Zoo
You haven't changed, you still ain't standing up straight
And I been thinking 'bout what we've become
Or what we haven't, just look what we've done
Still making fire out of sticks and stones
Standing united all together alone
Do the crawl, do the crawl, do the crawl
Back into the woods
Do the slide, do the slide, yeah, you and me
Back into the sea
Hey sister, how you been?
Last time you saw me, I was wearing a fin
Times haven't changed, I'm still swimming
Got to the top to get myself some air
I realized that it was better down there
It's like a jungle but there ain't no laws
No helping hands just grubby paws
Do the crawl, do the crawl, yeah, do the crawl
Back into the woods
Now do the slide, do the slide, just you and me
Back into the sea, oh yeah
My naked eye saw a fly in a jar with a hole in the lid
To tell his kid exactly where not to go
I saw the puppet string screwed into his head
I heard the puppet lie, I felt the banner shred
I can smell the smoke as well as a rat
I can teach that dog, I can learn from a cat
Throw it in reverse, so I can hit erase
I can taste the blood
Do the crawl, do the crawl, yeah, do the crawl
Back into the woods
Now do the slide, do the slide, yeah, you and me
Back into the sea
Do the crawl, do the crawl, do the crawl
Back into the woods
Now do the slide, do the slide, just, you and me
Back into the sea, oh yeah
