Understand

Dropline

Order me around the table
To write the fable
That marks your life
It's the stone that calls the rebel
That builds the way
And crashes into the bayDid you hear the one about me in the war?
Did it make you laugh?
Did you tell them you want more?
Have you figured out that I have gone insane?
Will you remain?
'Cause I don't understand anymore
So lead me by the hand to your doorJealous eyes are all around you
The first to find you beside yourself
In this stone we run for cover
And search the sky for souls slippin' awayDid you hear the one about me in the war?
Did it make you laugh?
Did you tell them you want more?
Have you figured out that I have gone insane?
Will you remain?
'Cause I don't understand anymore
So lead me by the hand to your door
Once moreTake the wrong from right
This dark and Northern night
I don't understand anymoreOh now, I was the oneAnd I don't understand anymore
Lead me by the hand to your door
Once more
Take the wrong from right
This dark and Northern night
And I don't understand anymoreLa da di (5x)And I don't understand anymore
