

This Is The Best Day Ever.

My Chemical Romance

And we can run, from the backdrop of these gears and scalpels

At every hour goes the tick-tock bang of monitors as

They stared us down when we met in the emergency room

And in our beds, I could hear you breathe with help from cold machines
Every hour, on the hour, they drew blood
Well I felt I couldn't take, another day inside this place

From silent dreams we never wake, and in this promise that we'll make

Starless eyes for heaven's sake, but I hear you anyway

Well I thought I heard you

Say I like you, we can get out

We don't have to stay, stay inside this place
Someday, this day, we kept falling down

Someday, this day, set the ferris wheel ablaze

You left my heart an open wound

And I love you for
This day, someday we kept falling

One day, this day all we had to keep us safe

And if we never sleep again, it would never end

Well I thought I heard you say to me
We'll go so far, far as we can

And I just can't stay, one day we'll run away
