Weightless

Courtney Jones

What is this road?
What is this journey?
And where does time go so slowly?
And how can we help but be who we are?
And change can end too much?
Love may be the end of us, but why, why should we fear?
Because with all the wondering, Im weightless here in my dreams.
What is this someday?
What is it really?
But a tomorrow or today?
And frozen in the footsteps untaken, we stand side by side
Love may be the end of us, but why should we fear?
Because with all the wondering, Im weightless here in my dreams
Take me into morning gently
And hand me off into the day
Suddenly Im running slowly
Suddenly it all goes dark
Love may be the end of us, but why, why should we fear?
Because with all the wondering, Im weightless here in my dreams
Suddenly Im running slowly
Suddenly it all goes dark
Suddenly Im running slowly
Suddenly it all goes dark
