Suffocate

First Blood

The polluted face of life hiding in black clouds unknowingly killing you, killing me.
His filthy hands, are wrapped around our trusting throats but the last thing that we need is another Liar breathing the fire
Suffocate, of death down below.
Suffering in solitude as your last breath slips away

With no one ever knowing
From the last generation
Turning their backs to the truth, to the new generation

Continue to spread the truth
Rebellion against the truth
Ignorant minds hide from the truth
Angry minds defy the truth
Greedy minds deny the truth
As we all suffocate
