

These Starlit Skies

SlowMotionNoise

Let's pretend
That everything will be OK
I'll make amends as soon as the night fades away
These star lit skies, remind me of the days
When summer's lips grazed gently across your face
The music in the air
The rhythm our hearts
Will never fade away with time
Standing hand in hand
Between love and hate
Endlessly you're mine
Let's pretend
That everything will be OK
I'll make amends as soon as the night fades away
These star lit skies, remind me of the days
When summer's lips grazed gently across your face
I've run out of breath
I'm at a loss for words
Someone please save me
Spiraling straight down
Destroying what I've made
Love me, Hate me, Remember me
Let's pretend
That everything will be OK
I'll make amends as soon as the night fades away
These star lit skies, remind me of the days
When summer's lips grazed gently across your face
