Turn The Tables

Flaw

Full assistance to those who bear it all
Unable to fall, waiting patiently
Backs against the wall
Not allowing the weak to dictate
When it's our turn to recover(Show me that)
If your experiences don't compare
Just turn the tables
(Don't compare)
Stop acting like you really care
If you're not stableFull resistance to those who care at all
Directing the call, it's consuming us
Backs against the wall
Convincing the meek to dictate
All their actions on commandAnd eviction to those who swear it all
Fit to befall the false memory
Facts begin to stall
Permitting the bleak existence
This is our time to discover(Show me that)
If your experiences don't compare
Just turn the tables
(Don't compare)
Stop acting like you really care
If you're not stable(Show me that)
If your experiences don't compare
Just turn the tables
(Don't compare)
Stop acting like you really care
And turn the tablesThere will come a time for us to change things
And I will never strike at you again
I will try to learn to make amends
You will never lessen who I am
Don't be sheltered show me where you've been Show me where you've been
Show me where you've been(Show me that)
If your experiences don't compare
Just turn the tables
(Don't compare)
Stop acting like you really care
If you're not stable(Show me that)

If your experiences don't compare
Just turn the tables
(Don't compare)
Stop acting like you really care
And turn the tablesBecoming yourself now
Achieving what you allow
Don't take it out on us allBecoming yourself now
Achieving what you allow
