All You Do Is Talk

Black Rebel Motorcycle Club

Help yourself, dont say a thing Your love won't show In anything at all If all you do is talkSadly, I remain in need Of all the things you say But leave in speak All you do is talkHelp yourself, don't think Help yourself, don't speak Help yourself, don't say a thing at all You're lucky words dont bleedYou time the end of all we see You say we're on our way And all will be Alone in everything You say it's all we'll ever need You've found an easy way But still you weep Alone in everythingHelp yourself, dont think Help yourself, dont speak Help yourself, dont say a thing at all You're lucky words dont bleedHelp yourself, don't say a thing What love you show Won't mean a thing at all If all you do is talkSadly, we remain to see What brings an end Is also what we need All you do is talkHelp yourself, dont think Help yourself, dont speak
