

Our Time Has Come

Average White Band

Looking back on the road we left behind
I wonder just what it is we've done
Seems like we've earned the right
To throw the dice again
Let's make the pieces fit together -
As one To be masters of our own fate
- is all we're asking for
Looks like we don't have long
To wait, no more Now, now that our time has come
- let's take our chance right now,
Now, let's finish what we begun -
- no time to hang around
Now that our time has finally
Come around Looking ahead, just one step at a time
I think that by now we should Know enough
Seems like we've learned the way
To keep it all in line
There ain't no way that we will let
It get too tough
