Darling, I Love You

Scott Dawson

I've got something to tell you
That I could never say
Words that have new meaning
Since you went away
It never seemed to matter
As we lived from day to day
So I hope that you can hear me now
As I bow my head and pray

Oh my darling, oh my darling
No one ever told me
That we'd be parting
I thought we had forever
To say things we both knew
So my darling let me say that I love you

I think of all those Christmases
Sitting 'round the tree
You'd take my hand
You'd say those words
Then you'd wait for me

I'm trying to raise our children
Like I thought you would
We've got support from families
In the neighborhood
We're growing up together
Learning right from wrong
They miss their mama I miss my wife
But we've got to carry on
